

Our mission

The Stork's Nest aim is it to develop an agriculture production, which combines traditional methods and new know-how. Manually work replaces the use of chemical. The natural surrounding is integrated part.

Plant-seed- and seed-oil production focusing on medical plants for diabetes, cholesterol as well recovery from cancer. We are testing every year more than 50 plants from all over the world to ensure the best effect of our herbs.

Livestock is focusing on preserved breeds such as Mangulica pig or Sulmtaler chicken also known as Emperor's Hen. Species-appropriate animal husbandry is obligatory, allowing health, strong and resistant animals and related products.

Tradition and Ethno is as important as integrated, self-sustainable and self-efficient agronomy. Linkages between tradition and modern, old and new, instinct and science and chemical free production is our aim.
